Awesome Dan- thanks for the update! Hopefully the new antenna will work. If it doesn't, just let me know as I'll have to break the news to the powers that be...not much you can do about it if the signal is being blocked by the canyon walls!

Happy new year to you as well!

Hi Karen,

We installed the gage on December 4th. The gage should be recording data. It was having trouble getting cell modem coverage so we do not have realtime data.

I purchased a different antenna system and will install sometime in January.

Hope you have a great New Years!,

Dan

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Clear Creek?

Hi Dan-

Did the Clear Creek turbidity/temperature station ever get set up? Just curious...tomorrow is my last day of work so after that, please send any correspondence to Gage McKeag (gage.mckeag@usda.gov) and please cc: me at k2_willow@hotmail.com . I will be coming back on contract for a few days a week starting in February and will still be engaged to some extent (for a little while anyway).

Thanks!

karen
